PROFILE

I am a Computer Science student student in 2nd year at warsaw management university, with strong foundations in data structures, algorithms and software development. I have hands on experience in python and c++ through academic and personal projects. I am extremely enthusiastic about building scalable systems and eager to contribute to impactful projects

EXPERIENCE / PROJECTS

- Designed and implemented a RESTful API in Python to manage user data
- Integrated the API with a frontend application so as to enable real-time communication between client and server

you can find more of my personal projects on github THANKS
